

The E-rate program has been the difference between keeping up with technology or falling behind. Great gains have been made in the 16 years of the program. However, the funding level has remained for 16 years the same except with the recent inflation adjustment. This is simply not enough money to keep the program going. Please find a way to combine duplicative initiatives to sufficiently fund the program.